

THEOSOPHY'S LEADERS

Mrs. Tingley and Her Cabinet Visit Salt Lake.

A FAMOUS WOMAN'S WORK

SPREADING THE GOSPEL OF UNIVERSAL BROTHERHOOD.

Is the Successor of William Q. Judge—Mrs. Tingley Won Fame By Her Philanthropic Work In India and Cuba—Lectures In Salt Lake—One to Be Given This Evening.

At the Knutsford is a distinguished party of theosophists, including adherents of that faith from all over the east and Great Britain. Mrs. Katherine A. Tingley, the head of the Universal Brotherhood, is the most noted member of the party.

MRS. KATHERINE A. TINGLEY.

uent exponent of the theosophical doctrines, did for the Theosophical society.

After Madame Blavatsky's death two claimants for her position appeared. Mrs. Annie Besant and Mrs. Tingley. Mrs. Besant is the leader of what is termed the Theosophical society. Mrs. Tingley was until his death, the head of the Universal Brotherhood. This organization aims to put into actual practice the doctrines of Madame Blavatsky, to reach to the world the truth, the reality, the universal brotherhood of man the world over.

Mrs. Tingley has won renown by her humanitarian work during the famine in India and at Montauk Point, and latterly in Santiago, Cuba, all of which was conducted in the spirit of the International Brotherhood league, a branch of the society which devotes itself to practical humanitarian work.

Others of Mrs. Tingley's party are F. M. Pierce of New York, secretary general of the Universal Brotherhood; W. F. Hanson, a member of the cabinet of council, and secretary and treasurer of the International Brotherhood league; Mr. Basil Crump of London, English editor of the Crusader, the society's magazine in England; Mrs. Cleather of London, vice president for England; Miss Adkinson, prominent English worker; H. T. Peterson, assistant treasurer of the Universal Brotherhood, and Miss Fabra, a young Cuban lady, in whom Mrs. Tingley has taken a great interest.

LIEUTENANT DAN GODFREY.

England's Most Famous Bandmaster Coming to Zion.

"The Garter King of English Bandmasters," "The Napoleon of Bandmen," are abstract titles that the English papers have added to the many genuine titles won by Lieutenant Dan Godfrey, who is the most distinguished military conductor that the annals of the English army has ever known. In July, 1856, he was appointed by H. R. H. the prince consort to the position of bandmaster of her majesty's Grenadier Guards. In 1862, at the request of the Queen Victoria, he was appointed to the post of bandmaster of the Royal Household. He brought the famous "Grenadier band" across the seas to participate in the Boston Peace Jubilee, of which many American musicians remember the great reception given the Englishman upon that occasion.

In 1887, in honor of her majesty, Queen Victoria's jubilee, he was given a commission in the Guards, taking the rank of lieutenant, the first bandmaster in the British service who has ever attained such a mark of special distinction. He is also one of the founders of the ultra exclusive Masonic lodge, that of the Household Brigade Lodge No. 4, of which his royal highness, the Prince of Wales, is M. W. G. master. Among other orders and distinctions conferred upon him at different times may be mentioned the St. George-Gotha Order of Arts and Sciences, the Jubilee medal of Queen Victoria, 1887, the clasp of 1895, the "Companion of the Royal Order of King Albert," from his majesty, the King of Kalakaua; the Masonic order of Founders' Jewel of the Household Brigade of Guards, composed of officers, past and present, of the Grenadier Scotch and Coldstream Guards, First and Second Life Guards, and the Royal House Guards, a professor in the Royal Academy of Music, a member of the court of assistance of the Royal Society of Musicians, a fellow of the Royal Academy of Music, a member of the Savoy club, the Royal Academy of Music club, at Windsor, etc., etc. And among his most treasured prizes is the gold medal presented to him at Boston in 1872. Godfrey has always furnished the music at Buckingham and Windsor castles, the levees at Marlborough house, at royal weddings and at the great historic events happening throughout the greater period of the queen's reign. The music loving people of this city will have an opportunity of hearing his famous band at the tabernacle on June 14 and 15.

HALLOCK MAY BE RETAINED

MOVEMENT IN AID OF DISMISSED PRINCIPAL.

Mr. Walker Assures Committee of His Regard For Their Wishes—Petitions For Professor Webster.

Patrons of the Franklin school were much encouraged last evening upon hearing a report from the sub-committee appointed to wait upon Mr. M. H. Walker, the board member from that district, who voted against Principal Hallock's retention, and, if possible, induce him to change his vote. The sub-committee, consisting of Messrs. John Allen, J. C. Carter, H. F. Evans, Albert Fisher and James Conroy, had an interview with Mr. Walker yesterday afternoon, and last evening a report was made to the full committee that the sub-committee was entirely satisfied with Mr. Walker's assurances of an desire to retain the chairmanship, expressed view of his constituents.

It is quite probable, therefore, that Principal Hallock will not be dismissed from the public school service, but until the last ditch is crossed, the Franklin school committee on protest will maintain its organization.

There is still a prospect that favorable action will also be taken in Principal Webster's case. Spontaneously a committee is circulating petitions to the board for his retention, and the promoters of the movement say when the lists are completed, every parent who has had a pupil at the Webster school, either in the Lincoln or the Tenth district, all the older pupils and every teacher under him will have signed. This testimony, now, however, before, but he was induced by members of the board to raise objection to popular petition methods. Now, however, the matter is out of Mr. Webster's hands.

RESISTED THE OFFICER.

Much Excitement Over Arrest of a Drunken Man.

The arrest of Frank Ferguson for fighting yesterday afternoon caused a great deal of excitement on Main street, and any amount of trouble for Officer Lincoln. Ferguson and another man became involved in a conversation in front of the Vienna cafe, ending in the former striking the unknown. The officer caught Ferguson, who was drunk, and tried to lead him to the station, but he resisted. The officer then called for help, and a crowd of 200 or 300 people gathered. The patrol wagon came down on the run, with officer Davies accompanying, and Ferguson, egged on by some of his friends, protested against being put in. A. L. Morris of the Utah Mining exchange, was one who interfered for the arrested man, and requested the officer to walk him to the station, which he did, a crowd of about seventy-five following. Several times Ferguson showed signs of resistance, in which his friends encouraged him, but he did not until he entered the hall, did he become really hard to handle.

BRIEF LOCALS.

Yesterday's bank clearings were $38,151, and for the same day last year, $32,747.

Judge Marshall returned yesterday from justice, where he has been holding court for the last two months.

All Hallows' college band favored The Herald with some fine music yesterday afternoon.

Colonel Willard Young of the Second volunteer engineers will arrive from the east this morning.

John A. Glynn, late a resident of Scotland, has returned to citizenship by taking the oath of allegiance.

Three attorneys were admitted to practice in the supreme court yesterday. They were Arthur M. Bowen, George H. Lund and John A. Glynn.

It is reported that a demoted woman named Barker was recently seen by a prominent English society, H. T. Peterson, assistant treasurer of the Universal Brotherhood, and Miss Fabra, a young Cuban lady, in whom Mrs. Tingley has taken a great interest.

A certificate of incorporation was issued by the secretary of state yesterday to the Utah Commercial and Savings Bank, organized at Ogden with a capital stock of $100,000.

A sorority party was given by Bro. E. M. H. at the home of A. L. Morris, on Church street. It was gotten up by Mrs. Morris and her friends.

Word was received from Park City last night that it was feared that the W. A. McLaughlin spoken of in the dispatches of Ogden, of which his royal highness, the Prince of Wales, is M. W. G. master. Among other orders and distinctions conferred upon him at different times may be mentioned the St. George-Gotha Order of Arts and Sciences, the Jubilee medal of Queen Victoria, 1887, the clasp of 1895, the "Companion of the Royal Order of King Albert," from his majesty, the King of Kalakaua; the Masonic order of Founders' Jewel of the Household Brigade of Guards, composed of officers, past and present, of the Grenadier Scotch and Coldstream Guards, First and Second Life Guards, and the Royal House Guards, a professor in the Royal Academy of Music, a member of the court of assistance of the Royal Society of Musicians, a fellow of the Royal Academy of Music, a member of the Savoy club, the Royal Academy of Music club, at Windsor, etc., etc. And among his most treasured prizes is the gold medal presented to him at Boston in 1872. IMPROVEMENTS AT CASTILLA.

Big Dancing Pavilion and Other Attractions Added.

The spirit of progress has not skipped the health and pleasure resort at Castilla, Utah. To its other attractions will be added this year what has long been needed, a good dancing pavilion. This is now being constructed, 60x100 feet in extent, second only to the one at Salsita. The mineral baths are also being greatly improved, and the hotel will be thoroughly overhauled. Mose Christensen, the well known musician of this city, has been appointed excursion agent of Castilla, yesterday, and announces that the first excursion of the season will be run from here Saturday, June 10. He says, "The good music will be furnished every day and good order will be maintained."

GREESON'S GRIEF.

Newspaper Man's Pet Dog Chases His Last Missile.

Robert A. Greeson had a sorrowful experience yesterday with his pet dog, a mongrel, which he named "Cassidy." The dog was running down the street, and Greeson, who was driving a horse-drawn carriage, was trying to cross the track. The dog went beyond his dog track, and the dog went after it, but delayed his return until a car had passed. Greeson, who was driving a horse-drawn carriage, was trying to cross the track. FRED SIMON'S WILL IS FILED

LIFE INSURANCE POLICIES AGGREGATING $13,000.

WALKER BROS.' PROJECT

MERCANTILE BLOCK TO BE RAISED TWO STORIES.

Improvement Will Cost $40,000 and Make This One of the Finest Blocks In the West—One of the Results of Federal Building Location.

One of the first and a very important result of the location of the federal building on the corner of Main and Market streets will be the raising of the Mercantile block on the corner of Main and Third Street to five stories. In planning this improvement the Walker Bros. are influenced by two considerations. The first of these is their existing business, which demands and has for some time demanded more room. This business now occupies all the first floor, the basement and part of the second floor, and there is no room for expansion except by driving out good tenants from the second floor. The second consideration is the location of the federal building below it makes the Mercantile block a desirable office building, and consequently the two extra stories will be a good investment of capital.

When in 1890 the Walker Bros. erected that block and removed their store there, they created by the transaction a going far out of what was considered the business district. They not only planned their faith on that corner, but they built their foundations so strong and deep that the present walls will sustain the two extra stories, and it will be a comparatively easy proposition to make the improvement. The faith of these men has been justified by recent events.

The present building has a frontage of eighty feet on Third Street and 165 on Main. The addition of the two extra stories will cost between $20,000 and $40,000, and will make this one of the finest blocks in the west. This improvement will pave the way for others in that vicinity.

IN THE COURTS.

Verdict Against Raybold.

Judge Rolapp rendered judgment for the defendant yesterday in the case of the Grande Ronde Lumber company of Oregon vs. B. G. Raybold. The case was appealed from Justice Sommer's court, where the plaintiff was given a judgment for $125.85. Raybold was awarded a grand jury verdict of $800 damages, and the case was remanded in Ogden for money received for certain goods he was alleged to have sold for the company. George L. Nye being retained as counsel for the plaintiff and W. T. Gunter the defendant.

Dispute Over Land.

A case involving conflicting claims to thirty acres of land south and east of the city was tried before Judge Rolapp yesterday. It was John W. Allen vs. John W. W. Fitzgerald. Allen claims the land under a deed of 1884, while Fitzgerald claims it by virtue of a sale under an execution issued by virtue of a judgment in an attachment suit in Justice Sommer's court. The case had not been concluded at about one-third the cost, and was adjourned until Wednesday morning. Krebs & Hoffaugh appeared for the plaintiff and F. T. McGurrin for the defendant.

Tomorrow's Calendar.

As today is a legal holiday none of the courts will be in session.

The following cases will be called for trial before Judge Cherry tomorrow: St. Louis and return, 2:30 p. m. W. H. H. vs. Brown. Davies vs. Armstrong. In Judge Norrell's court the trial of Earnest T. Bates, the Hiverton postmaster, who was tried for attempting to burn the postoffice and general store at that place will begin.
